PSAT Day Digital and Face-to-Face Learning Expectations, October 14, 2020

The Cherokee County School District will be administering the PSAT to all students in 9th and 10th grade on Wednesday, October 14, 2020. Additionally, 11th grade students wishing to take the PSAT to be considered for National Merit Scholarship contention may opt to test as well (subject to registration fee).

As you are aware, due to Covid-19, CCSD has students who are currently in-person and remote. Unfortunately, there is not an option for students to participate in this test from a remote location, so all digital learning students will have to report to their school campus on PSAT day to test. To assist schools with accommodating all students while adhering to the security requirements from College Board and providing proper social distancing for health and safety, October 14, 2020, will be a Digital Learning Day for 11th and 12th grade students not involved in PSAT testing.

The following guidelines will apply to PSAT Day on October 14, 2020:

- 9th, 10th and optional 11th grade test-takers will report to campus on October 14 at the regular morning arrival time.
 - Following testing, schools will follow an abbreviated PSAT class schedule (as they have in the past) to provide instructional activities for those students for the remainder of the school day.
 - The expectation is that this is a full day of learning for these students.
 - Current full-time digital learning students may be dismissed after testing to resume their digital learning activities. (Transportation will not be provided).
- 11th and 12th grade non-test takers will have a digital learning day and will work remotely from home.
 - Current face-to-face students will participate in remote learning activities via CANVAS. Teachers should follow the guidance provided in the CCSD Digital Learning Training Canvas course modules regarding remote instruction. Students should be expected to complete activities just as they would on a regular school day to correspond to what students participating in in-person learning on Oct 14 are receiving. Activities should be posted before the start of the school day on October 14.
 - The expectation is that this is a full day of learning for these students.
 - Current full-time 11th and 12th grade digital learning students will not be impacted.
