Title
Recognition of Woodstock Elementary School as a Common Sense Certified School for Digital Citizenship
Requested Action
School Board Recognition of Woodstock Elementary School as a Common Sense Certified School for Digital Citizenship
Summary Explanation and Background
Woodstock ES has been named a Common Sense Certified School for Digital Citizenship by Common Sense, a national nonprofit organization dedicated “to helping kids and families thrive in a world of digital media and technology.” The school was certified for its work in preparing students to use digital media safely, including how to avoid dangers such as loss of privacy, cyberbullying and plagiarism. Principal Kim Montalbano praised Media Specialist Amy VanFossen for coordinating the school's successful certification process. “We applaud the faculty and staff of Woodstock Elementary School for embracing digital citizenship as an important part of their students' education,” said Liz Kline, Vice President of Education Programs for Common Sense Education, adding the school's staff “deserves high praise” for teaching students digital citizenship skills necessary for their future success.
