

Dear Students,

We are writing to share exciting news: this school year, we will be using a transformational new resource to help you master the content that matters for your college readiness called Albert.io.

Albert helps you prepare for difficult academic subjects such as the APs, SAT, ACT, and many of your other courses here at RRHS. You'll work through interactive engaging practice questions to help you learn faster, score better, and feel more confident on standardized exams.

This year, you will join your class account so that your teacher can customize lessons based on what makes sense for you. We encourage you throughout the year to focus on these 3 things:

1. Complete all of the assignments your teacher provides you on Albert so they can identify which areas they can help you most in.
2. Practice at home before, during, and after every unit so you can retain more and ace your class tests.
3. Be sure to PRACTICE, PRACTICE, PRACTICE for the ACT, SAT, and AP exams. You have access to all the resources in Albert.io, so put in the work toward improved scores.

Albert will be a fantastic resource! Albert is here to give you an authentic look at test content, but it's up to you to put in the time to get results. It is free for you so we encourage you to make the most of it.

Sincerely,

RRHS Administration and Counseling
