Screenagers - NEXT CHAPTER:
Uncovering Skills for Stress Resilience-a film that examines the science behind teen's emotional challenges, the interplay of social media, and most importantly, what can be done in our schools and homes to help them build crucial skills to navigate stress, anxiety, and depression in our digital age.

Following the film, attendees will have the opportunity to attend two 20-minute breakout sessions. Sessions include social media and the following topics: suicidal ideation, teen addictions, parental navigation of teen apps, bullying issues, and current laws related to social media.

Note: Parents are encouraged to attend, no matter what their child's current age. However, student attendance at the event is restricted to middle/high school, as some content is not appropriate for elementary age students.
